ACADEMIC PARTNERS

As a teaching Trust, we work closely with our major academic partners, the University of Hull, York and Coventry (Scarborough Campus) nurturing a workforce of tomorrow's doctors.

LINKS WITH LOCAL UNIVERSITIES

We're proud of the partnerships we have built with our local universities, which give us an opportunity to influence the curriculum and participate in the teaching of tomorrow's doctors.

Our staff also have access to post registration education through these partners, enabling them to develop and expand their medical knowledge and skills.

Our Medical Education Department supports our trainee doctors at all levels of their career, from student placements to postgraduate speciality training and continual professional development.

We are proud to provide a thriving learning environment which motivates and inspires doctors, ensuring that they're excited by the opportunities their career in our Trust offers.

RESEARCH

We recognise the importance of investing in research, enabling our staff to learn and grow and our community to participate in healthcare improvement.

As a research-active Trust, with a well-established Research Department, we work with local, national and international research experts and evaluate innovative healthcare interventions. We are partners in the National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR) Yorkshire and Humber Clinical Research Network (CRN) and can support you with various opportunities, including taking on local Principal Investigator roles in research projects and leading and generating research as a Chief Investigator.

Our Research Conference is a sell-out event each year. In 2022, we welcomed over 450 delegates from over 100 organisations, who heard from speakers covering a wide variety of topics, from many different specialities and professions.

We view research as a core component of our clinical services, enhancing our offer to those who access our services, but also making Humber Teaching NHS Foundation Trust an excellent place for staff to work, learn and innovate.

For me, the most important reason that I'm involved in research is to make a difference to patients, their carers and our colleagues. Being involved in research enables me to develop transferable skills to support me in different work related avenues that I might wish to take in the future. Hopefully the outcomes of research go forward to being part of our usual practice, but even if they don't I know that I have made a difference to the people that I have worked with and that is a good feeling to have!

Alison Williams, Specialist Occupational Therapist

Taking part in the research has been an amazing experience for us both

Research Participant

You'll join a forward thinking and award winning Trust that will provide you with the environment to develop and progress your career.

Dr Kwame Fofie, Consultant Psychiatrist & Executive Medical Director

IN OUR OWN WORDS

I relocated from London to complete my core training in Psychiatry with Humber in 2012.

After completing my training, I stayed with the Trust due to its excellent working environment, support from peers, vibrant medical education department and outstanding opportunities for getting involved in teaching, research and publications.

I am working as a Consultant Psychiatrist in our learning disability services and as a Senior Honorary Lecturer for Hull and York Medical Schools. The quality of care is phenomenal, staff go the extra mile to care for our patients and families."

Dr. Amir Javaid, Consultant Psychiatrist

The Trust is great with supporting Doctors, including Consultants and Trainees of all grades. I completed my core training in Psychiatry in Hull and coming back after doing two years of higher training away was like returning home. I am now working as a Perinatal Consultant and can see how much the Trust is investing in Doctors, our training and wellbeing. I am not surprised that so many Psychiatry Trainees, who have had placements in the area, chose to work for the Trust when they become specialists

Once you get a taste for it, there's nowhere else quite like living and working in Yorkshire and Hull is indeed the 'unseen rose of Yorkshire!' The scenery, culture and entertainment are just a few of the reasons why the quality of life in Hull surpasses other places. Hull's surrounding villages offer impeccable value for money and welcoming neighbourhoods.

Dr Doug Ma, Consultant Psychiatrist and Royal College Tutor

The informal peer support that the Psychiatry team offer one another is invaluable – I can ask questions, share concerns and discuss patient support in a supportive environment.

Dr Maria Kallikourdi,
Consultant Psychiatrist

Dr Reena Roy, Consultant Psychiatrist
and Senior Lecturer and Tutor,
Hull and York Medical School

MEDICAL EDUCATION

We're proud to be a major teaching partner with Hull York Medical School (HYMS), one of the UK's most exciting and contemporary schools which delivers innovative and rigorous medical education and research.

Our Medical Education team supports doctors at all levels of their career, from student placements to postgraduate speciality training and continued development for consultants. We consistently demonstrate our commitment to developing and investing in the psychiatrists of the future by growing our own medical workforce with a good retention rate of trainees as Consultants.

We are proud to provide a thriving learning environment which motivates and inspires trainees, ensuring that they're excited by the opportunities their career in psychiatry offers. Our teams' passion for teaching was rewarded in 2020, with a HYMS excellence award for providing students with a positive, inspiring and enjoyable experience.

Consultants play an active role in undergraduate teaching and examining and for those who wish to get involved, HYMS awards the title of Honorary Senior Lecturer.

There are opportunities and support for Consultants to become Educational and Clinical Supervisors for Foundation doctors, Core Trainees and GP Trainees and also to develop as Higher Trainers.

WE WOULD LOVE FOR YOU TO JOIN OUR TRUST.

Our Department of Medical Education works closely with Hull York Medical School and Health Education England to deliver high quality medical education at an undergraduate and postgraduate level. We have worked to support Doctors through the pandemic with medical education, wellness, and recovery needs, and have expanded the number of funded medical education roles available, which we encourage Doctors to contribute to when they join.

Our dedicated, innovative and enthusiastic team work alongside our undergraduate tutors and postgraduate trainers to support them in their roles training the next generation of Psychiatrists.

We hope to inspire Medical Students, Foundation Doctors and GP Trainees to support and manage patients with mental health problems and consider a career in Psychiatry. We will continue to support our core and higher trainees through their training programmes to become leading psychiatrists. Our aspiration is that these doctors at the start of their career will want to continue to work in the Trust as our future consultants.

Dr Soraya Mayet,
Director of Medical Education
