The Trust is made up of two of London's oldest and most well known teaching hospitals. The hospitals have a long history, dating back almost 900 years, and have been at the forefront of medical progress and innovation since they were founded. Both hospitals have built on these traditions and continue to have a reputation for excellence and innovation.

We are part of King's Health Partners Academic Health Sciences Centre (AHSC), a pioneering collaboration between one of the world's leading research-led universities and three of London's most successful NHS Foundation Trusts. Equality of opportunity is our Policy. The Trust provides health services to a diverse community.

We are advertising for four 1 year Clinical Fellows in Proactive care of Older People undergoing Surgery. This is an established clinical fellow programme, with excellent feedback.

The post holder will work within the Department of Ageing and Health 'Perioperative medicine of Older people undergoing Surgery' (POPS) service, which is an innovative and award winning service delivering CGA-based care to older people undergoing surgery. The work will be based at both Guy's and St Thomas' Hospitals.

The applicant may have a background in geriatric medicine, acute/general medicine or anaesthetics.

The post holder will be involved in the delivery of preoperative comprehensive geriatric assessment, development of care pathways, management of inpatients on surgical wards, and training of surgical staff in 'geriatric issues'. The post holder will participate in outpatient clinics, ward rounds, and multidisciplinary team meetings. There are likely to be on call duties as a medical registrar on a 1 in 8 rota for at least 6 months of the one year post.

As a 1 year POPS Clinical Fellow you will find exciting opportunities to learn about perioperative medicine, service development, business planning, and project evaluation. There is an expectation that the post holder will present and publish findings and will be supported to seek research funding.

Start date for these posts is either August, September or October.
